2015 Festival Recap

At the Inaugural Festival held in May of 2015, thirteen authors/illustrators from around the country came to Bentonville for two nights to speak to children and adults about writing, illustrating and the book publishing process.

A Friday night VIP sponsor reception and dinner was held.

Saturday included author/illustrator presentations, workshops, and activities that were designed as engaging experiences for all ages.

The Festival concluded with a book sale and signing.

At the end of the day, 1,250 participants were inspired to read and develop their artistic talents!

Our Inaugural Festival garnered local, regional, state and national media attention. It was recognized as an official Children's Book Week event, with photographs featured in the "Book Week Recap" by Publisher's Weekly.
